“Every patient deserves our full attention and extra time to really get to know them.”

About Stephanie Chong, MD

As an internal medicine physician, Dr. Stephanie Chong has served the medical needs of patients across their lifespan. Today, she works specifically with seniors at Chen Senior Medical Center for one simple reason. "They deserve the best care," says Dr. Chong. "Every patient deserves our full attention and extra time to really get to know them. Seniors often don't get that level of focused care during a time in their lives when they need it most. I'm here because Chen Senior Medical Center shares that same value and lets me practice it every day."

Dr. Chong earned her medical degree at the University of the West Indies in Mona, Jamaica, and completed her internal medicine residency at State University of New York Health Science Center at Brooklyn. She trained in dermatology, emergency medicine, pediatrics, orthopedics, obstetrics and gynecology and has helped patients in a variety of medical settings in Jamaica and the U.S. Dr. Chong is a member of the Jamaica Medical Doctors Association and the Medical Association of Jamaica.

Her hobbies include swimming, kayaking, weight training, kung fu and cooking.
