“I want seniors to feel supported as we work together to maintain good health and a meaningful life.”

About Berenice Subero Pablo, MD

Dr. Berenice Subero Pablo grew up wanting to be a doctor and loves making a positive impact as she lives out her dream today. “My favorite part is establishing meaningful relationships with patients,” Dr. Subero Pablo says. “I want seniors to feel supported as we work together to maintain good health and a meaningful life.” These strong connections also help Dr. Subero Pablo to better understand her patients’ needs and individualize care.

When she’s not caring for seniors or keeping up with medical research, Dr. Subero Pablo enjoys time with her family and friends, working out, practicing yoga, trying new restaurants, and traveling. Her favorite places to visit have been Madrid, Spain, and Galena, Illinois.
