“Being able to help them gives me tremendous fulfillment and I love seeing the incredible transformations in my patients”

About Sofia Cueto, AP

Sofia Cueto fell in love with acupuncture the moment she tried it. “I knew right away that I wanted to share acupuncture with the world,” she says. That’s when Sofia Cueto left her corporate finance career to become an acupuncture physician. As she cares for her senior patients, Sofia Cueto empathizes with their struggles and uses acupuncture to bring relief to their pain, depression, anxiety, insomnia, and digestive trouble. “Being able to help them gives me tremendous fulfillment,” she says, “and I love seeing the incredible transformations in my patients!”

Away from work, Sofia Cueto focuses on quality time with her family and friends, personal development, church, and fitness. She also enjoys travel and considers all of Europe to be magical.
