About Reynier Pomares Castillo, MD

It was a childhood dream of Dr. Reynier Pomares Castillo to become a physician. “I love to help people and make them feel comfortable, healthy, and happy,” he says. He places emphasis on preventative and value-based care. Dr. Castillo loves serving the senior population. “I love advocating for them,” he says. He views his patients as family, rather than merely patients. “In my opinion, with communication and empathy, you can build trust. This is the key to creating a solid relationship with our patients,” he says.

In his free time, Dr. Castillo loves taking road trips with his family. One day, he wants to drive coast to coast. He also enjoys playing chess and is a member of the United States Chess Federation.
