“I try to see every patient as a family member and try to build that relationship and treat them as such.”

About Lior Elkayam, MD

Dr. Lior Elkayam knew at a young age that he wanted to become a physician. “Even my elementary yearbook stated that I was going to become a physician,” he says. Building lasting relationships with his patients is his favorite part of his profession. “I try to see every patient as a family member and try to build that relationship and treat them as such,” he explains. He greatly respects the senior population and is dedicated to providing them with the best possible care. He likes treating the “whole person” rather than just a patient’s ailments. “Treating heart, body, and soul is the goal!” he says.

In his free time, Dr. Elkayam enjoys reading, playing tennis, and spending quality time with his family.
