

“I am passionate about the senior community being at their optimal level of well-being.”

About Woodynn Fidele, DNP, FNP-BC

Inspired by her mother, who was a nurse, Woodynn Fidele chose to pursue a career in healthcare to positively impact the lives of her patients as well as the community in general. “I am passionate about the senior community being at their optimal level of well-being,” she says. Her favorite part of being a family nurse practitioner is seeing “joy in their faces after they’ve implemented what was educated to them in their plan of care.” She adds, “I never let an opportunity pass by to teach my patients something that can improve their health. I strive to bring evidence-based research to members of my community and workplace.”

Woodynn Fidele enjoys spending time with her family and traveling in her free time.
