

“I love medicine, and I like to help people.”

About Fernando Vazquez Pascual, MD

As a child, Dr. Fernando Vazquez Pascual was gifted “Human Anatomy for Kids,” which ignited his interest in healthcare. “I love medicine, and I like to help people,” he says. Caring for patients is his favorite part of being a physician. He believes in preventative care and strives to provide each patient with an individualized care plan. “I practice medicine focusing on treating the whole person rather than just symptoms,” he says. He finds it rewarding to care for seniors. “Practicing active listening, effective communication, being honest, respectful, and showing compassion are key components of my daily practice,” he says.

In his free time, Dr. Vazquez Pascual can be found with family and friends. He also enjoys fishing.
