“There’s nothing more rewarding to me than knowing I’ve played a part in someone’s journey toward better health.”

About Fernande Simeon, MSN, FNP

Fernande Simeon is “committed to being a true partner” in her patients’ healthcare journeys. “There’s nothing more rewarding to me than knowing I’ve played a part in someone’s journey toward better health,” she says. She loves building relationships with patients by educating, empowering, and supporting them. She explains, “I strive to make a difference in my patients’ lives by focusing on holistic, patient-centered care. This means not only addressing their immediate medical needs but also helping them understand and take control of their health.” She strives to make her patients “feel supported, respected, and cared for.”

Fernande Simeon loves spending her free time outdoors. She especially enjoys gardening and watching sports.
