“I like to understand how we can align their health goals with their life goals.”

About Paola Frattaroli, MD

Dr. Paola “P” Frattaroli grew up in a close-knit Italian Venezuelan family and was raised by her grandparents. “This made me realize from a young age how important grandparents are in our lives. I wanted to be the doctor who takes care of other people’s grandparents,” she explains. She emphasizes the importance of “mutual trust” and views herself as a “partner” in her patients’ health. She encourages her patients to “apply preventive medicine in a practical way.” She adds, “I like to understand how we can align their health goals with their life goals.”

In her free time, Dr. P can be found enjoying quality time with her family, especially her newborn. They especially love spending time outdoors at the beach or at the dog park.
