

“I wish to make sure they have the best quality of life and more good days.”

About Louvens Romain, MD

Dr. Louvens Romain chose to work in healthcare to “help others” and serve as “a role model” for those with similar backgrounds. He specifically chose to serve the senior population to “make sure they have the best quality of life and more good days.” He likes treating the whole person, not just conditions. He strives to provide “compassionate care” and always wants his patients to “feel seen and respected.” He adds that he always listens to patients’ concerns and tried to imagine himself in their shoes. He loves telling jokes and making his patients laugh.

In his down time, Louvens enjoys barbecuing and going to the beach with his sons, playing basketball and soccer with friends, traveling, and playing video games.
