“I chose the senior population because I see the value in caring for those who have higher health burdens with limited resources in a complex health system.”

About Charolette Jarrett, DNP, APRN, FNP-BC

Charolette Jarrett is an Advanced Registered Nurse Practitioner with certification in diabetes education and a demonstrated history of working across Emergency Medicine, Urgent Care, Primary Care, and Patient Education. She brings a wealth of diverse clinical experience to her patients, combined with a deep passion for helping them achieve a better quality of life through increased health literacy, empowerment, and personalized, culturally congruent care. "I chose the senior population because I see the value in caring for those who have higher health burdens with limited resources in a complex health system," she says.

For Charolette, genuine connection is at the heart of great care. "I care for them as individuals, and that helps to build a genuine relationship of trust," she says. "They can learn to trust that I am looking out for their best interest."

When not with patients, Charolette stays active with HIIT training and pilates. She also finds great purpose in attending church, serving her community, and spending quality time with her family.
